All Aboard for Hudson Valley Restaurant Week!

Looking for an exciting culinary adventure? Try taking the train to the restaurants of your choice during Hudson Valley Restaurant Week, coming up March 15-28. Of the more than 125 participating restaurants, over 30 are located within easy walking distance of Metro-North train stations on the Hudson, Harlem and New Haven lines.

We are delighted to partner with MTA Metro-North in inviting people from throughout the New York Metro area to discover the culinary pleasures of the Hudson Valley by train. It's easy to take Metro North up from the city or down from points north to enjoy many of the restaurants participating in Hudson Valley Restaurant Week. Commuters can even enhance their evening commutes by hopping off the train for a great dinner and back on to continue their travel home.
